Mom

In her youth, Mom was a hula hoop champ. Ever since, she's had hoops on the brain.

Each of the puzzles consists of three hoops, arranged as a Venn diagram, and a list of scrambled words. Unscramble the words and write them in the spaces to their right, then place them in the appropriate spots in the diagram. When you're finished, read the letters indicated in parentheses, in the order shown below, to get a seven-letter word.

Finally, place all seven answer words in the remaining Venn diagram on the final page to reveal the genetic trait that gave Mom her edge.
