

ALIAS

Telly saw computer stations along the walls, people hurrying by, carrying important secret documents. He knew he was inside the CIA building on Alias. As Telly stood gazing around, Jack Bristow walked up to him. "Agent Shun, your first assignment. Track down these suspects. We've been informed that the organization they belong to assigns 4-letter call names to each agent. Also, we know is that they like to hang out in pairs."
