

Altered States

by Wei-Hwa Huang

We created some interesting word triples as follows: take a word, and add two different state abbreviations to the front (separately) to make two new words. We then wrote some simple clues for all three words, and then cut each clue into two parts and rearranged them. Your goal is to find the original word triples. For instance, if you found the clues "Animal in an envious way," "Two-headed doctor, for short," and "Desire bolt," you could rearrange those clues into "Animal doctor, for short," "Two-headed bolt", and "Desire in an envious way", to get VET, RIVET, and COVET. The state abbreviations we've used are listed for your convenience.

AL AR CA CO CO CO DE GA ID IN IN IN IN IN LA LA
MA MI MI MI MO MO OR PA PA PA PA SC SC VA WA WI

A judge station, for example

A space chomps

A specific shape

Automobile illusion

Beaver's person, maybe

Biscuit for two

Brought up nothing

Claim not active

Coastal attendant

Computer start, perhaps

Creating leader

Desert anger

Did white

Domicile gym leader

Give more to relax in

Give recess

Google's arrangement

Half of a companion

Intense storage location

It can be of an invention

Located father

Loss of stock in trade

Move abrasively

Not having Brits

Not quite agent

One that can act as this

Parking permission

Pokémon lumpy

Present but pitched

Press service

Put into peripheral

Room down with a load

Royal sleeping

Rub individual

Sang during the next page, maybe

Seaside device

Secret to help

Showing more platform

Sticky and for pigs

Stopped objects

Thankless every season

Threw the holidays

Toner-using sadness

Turned the front

Weighted breadth

Went to dice

Willing functional

Yellow inside