

Oh, what a night! I was up way too late playing that mobile app again. I got plenty of badges, but what I really need is _____.

I was _____ to say anything, but yeah, it shows. Will you be able to work after a night like that?

I'll be fine after a couple of _____. I don't think I can do this for much longer, though. I'm stopping today—cold turkey.

_____ that: does it usually work? Especially with players as good as you? I mean, you must be in the top 25% in the world!

Nah, if you divided all of the players into _____, I'd likely be in the third or fourth. I'm lucky if I can hold a gym for even an hour.

Those gyms, man—you're there for five minutes before loads of other players show up like a pack of _____!

This game has totally taken over my life. Whoever _____ my biography should probably skip over this bit.

Well, consider _____ lightly, at least at work—if your boss finds out that you're playing on the company dime, you may end up with a lot more free time!

Except for the paycheck, that might actually be nice—this morning, I was so tired I grabbed my _____ instead of my umbrella. Now I have a cold.

Are you sure it isn't just hay fever? After all, it's the height of allergy season right now—or as I like to call it...
